

100 years!

Technology & Service since 1910

2010 marks the Chicago Electric Centennial—celebrating 100 years of technology and service.

We are proud to be a third-generation family business and thankful to our customers, suppliers, and employees as we mark this achievement.

1924
"More Power to You" trademark granted by US Patent Office.

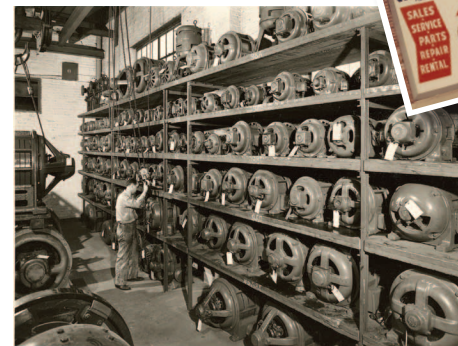

1910

1910
Chicago Electric Construction Company founded by Charles B. Kaska. He was 23 years old.

1947
National Industrial Service Association, Chicago Chapter—Bowling Champs

1937
Robert C. Kaska joins the company, second generation, at 23 years old.

1950s
Inventory of Rebuilt Motors

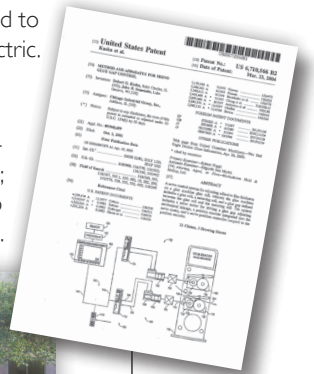

1970s
Billboard Linecard on Cermak Road in Chicago

1985
75th Anniversary—C.B. Kaska inducted, Electric Association Hall Of Fame.

2004
Emphasis on upgrade solutions—ServoGap Patent granted to Chicago Electric.

1994
Chicago Industrial Group formed; Chicago Electric Sales moves to 901 S. Route 53, Addison Illinois.

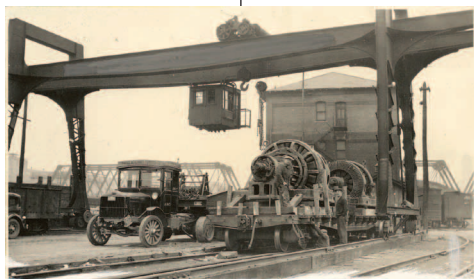

2010

1915

1915
Original building located at 740 W. Van Buren, Chicago, Illinois

1920

1920
Chicago Electric rebuilt the "big stuff" from the early days.

1926
24-page "Applied Power" catalog mailer

1931

1931
New building at 1318 W Cermak Road, Chicago, Illinois

1937

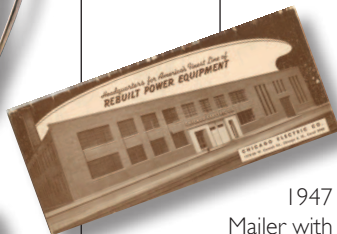

1938
Motor Dealers Association Bowling Trophy won by Chicago Electric.

1945
William L. Kaska joins the family business, second generation, at age 26.

1945

1947
Mailer with new brick "facelift" on Building

1947

1950s
Modern Office

1950

1960
50th Anniversary

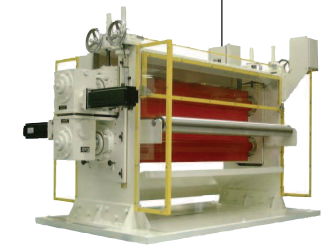

1970

1980
Robert E. Kaska joins company as third-generation Kaska, age 24.

1985

2000
Servo Drive Rotary Knife developed by Chicago Electric.

2000

2009
Professional Automation Services merges into Chicago Electric.

2003
New Chicago Electric building, 490 Tower Blvd., Carol Stream, Illinois

1990
Transition from motor rebuild to control system business.